History and Description of the Cultural Item

At an unknown date, one cultural item was acquired and transported to the east coast of the United States, where it became part of a private collection of Native American antiquities, art, and cultural heritage. In the spring of 2018, this item was seized by the FBI as part of a criminal investigation. Following multiple consultations with representatives of the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation, North Dakota, this item, a "bear mask," was determined to be culturally affiliated with the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation, North Dakota and identified as a sacred object.

Determinations Made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation

Officials of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have determined that:

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(3)(C), the one cultural item is a specific ceremonial object needed by traditional Native American religious leaders for the practice of traditional Native American religions by their present-day adherents.
- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the sacred object and the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation, North Dakota.

THE FEDERAL REGISTER]. After that date, if no additional claimants have come forward, transfer of control of the sacred object to the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Reservation, North Dakota may proceed.
